Below are some of our “special needs” dogs we supported in '09 for medical treatments:

Gracie was abandoned by a breeder. She has already undergone corrective surgery for an anatomical abnormality which affected the way her kidney passes the urine to her ureters. It bypassed the holding cell of her bladder and left her unable to control urination. Gracie was placed on medication that she takes 2 times a day. We brought Gracie into the rescue today and will evaluate her progress.

Sequoia is a very special girl in need of a very special owner! She was turned in after being left in an empty house where someone came by to feed her only about once a week. She was bone thin and may have recently had puppies. Originally she was having cluster seizures 2-3 times a week. We are happy to report that Sequoia has been seizure free for over a year! She does require lab work and maintenance visits at the vet to keep her stable. Despite having limited vision she can acclimate to new surroundings.

Thank you!
